The reason for non-delivery of every article of mail must be stamped or written on the address side before sending it to the Undeliverable Mail Office or returning it to the sender. Each article of mail, except third class matter, sent to the Undeliverable Mail Office is to be date stamped. Page 113

Delete Section 434 and substitute the following:

434. REDIRECTION OF MAIL

Requests for the redirection of mail should be made, in writing, by the persons concerned to the postmaster of the office from which such mail is to be redirected. The postmaster should carefully file such requests and see that they are not overlooked. Three months is the maximum time for acting on changes of address without a renewal order being necessary.

Persons whose mail is thus redirected should take steps to inform their correspondents of their change of address, so that the post office will not be put to unnecessary trouble.

Postmasters must place the new address on EVERY piece of mail which is redirected at the request of the addressee. If two or more pieces of redirected mail for the same person are made up in a packet for reforwarding, under no circumstances is the new address to be placed only on the top or outside piece.

Registered, C.O.D. and Special Delivery items, must be carefully date stamped before being reforwarded. Mail received from other countries must be date stamped if redirected to a destination outside of Canada. 8–63
